To whom it may concern,

Usually when we check the daily mail, it brings the normal assortment of bills and uninvited advertisements. However, today we received our statements for the Quadrus Investment Funds that we acquired through Fincore Solutions.

What welcome information!

When we first started working with Lore, I was dealing with a low yield retirement fund that was growing at a glacial rate. Lore worked closely with my wife and I, jumping through hoops to extricate the funds from a less than cooperative Pension Fund Society and presented us with several innovative options that allowed us to grow our investment and still maintain the security that we felt we needed.

My approaching retirement is much rosier now with the assistance of Loredana Onesan and her professional team at Fincore Solutions. We have found their personal caring approach, resourcefulness and creativity to be unmatched.

My wife and I have, and would, happily recommend Fincore Solutions to our friends and family and thank her and her team for their continued work on our behalf.

Sincerely,

Ron Lamont
